Thank you for all your wonderful words and feedback following the announcement that seismic testing was cancelled off our coast. Read more here to be inspired by the community spirit and share some ❤️ .
Save Our Coast also had 7 media interviews following the announcement (a link will be sent soon, and will be on our website on Monday).

We have all worked tirelessly to save our marine animals from seismic testing and for now, they have been spared this torment. It was the thought of our dolphins being harmed from the devastating blasting that moved me to start this campaign in the first place, and knowing our marine life has been spared this suffering is such a relief and a testament to all of you who have helped create this movement!

But, as we said, the fight is not over. There are plans for drilling for gas (note an Environmental Plan (EP) still needs to be released by the title holder (Advent/Asset Energy) and go through the consultatory and regulatory process, and approved by the regulator (NOPSEMA) prior to any further activity. When there is more information or when the EP is released we'll let you know more. In the meantime, we must keep the pressure up.

For two years our petition to Stop Seismic Testing and Drilling off Newcastle, The Central Coast and The Northern Beaches has been amassing a huge amount of support and it's time to have our voices heard in Federal Parliament.

Our petition which has 56,000 signatures asks for a ban on further seismic testing, and also an end to drilling and offshore exploration & activity for oil and gas in NSW. Our petition hopes to help implement legislation to secure the safety of our coast and marine animals from the dangers of seismic testing permanently and prevent the devastation of our coastal ecosystem and our climate from offshore oil and gas activity.

We are delighted that Independent MP Zali Steggall has agreed to present our petitions to Federal Parliament.

On 4 February, the first parliamentary sitting day of 2020, we will be travelling to Canberra to symbolically present the petitions to her in front of Parliament House at 11am, before Parliament commences, (and before the commencement of the People's Assembly at 12).

AND DON'T FORGET NEXT SUNDAY at MANLY,

SAVE THE NORTHERN BEACHES from blasting and drilling for gas.
- NO NEW FOSSIL FUELS IN A CLIMATE EMERGENCY.

UPDATE: ZALI STEGGAL MP and ABIGAIL BOYD MP as guest speakers!

An afternoon of Information, inspiring speakers and a free film screening, to save our coast, save our climate and save the Australia we all love.

In the wake of the catastrophic fires that have decimated wildlife, instead of plans to reduce emissions to protect climate, plans are afoot for devastating seismic blasting and/or drilling for gas within PEP 11 (Petroleum Exploration Permit 11 - 4,500 square km of ocean from Manly to Newcastle). Blasting and drilling for fossil fuels off our beautiful coast in a climate emergency? Further damage to our climate, increasing bushfire risk, harming marine animals and risking destroying our coast that we all share a deep connection to?

As extreme weather caused by climate damage exacerbates drought, rises temperatures and worsens bushfires, please join us in the spirit of hope, for a Sunday afternoon of information and community action to help us Save Our Coast, save our climate and save the Australia we all love. (cuppa and cake provided)

In the spirit of hope and community action, join us for an afternoon of information, inspiring speakers (including MPs Zali Steggal and Abigail Boyd), and film, to help stop seismic blasting and drilling for gas within PEP 11 (petroleum exploraiton permit 11) off Manly, to prevent further climate damage, and to Save our Coast and the Australia we all love.
